Pay-Less virtual race raises nearly $30K to support several nonprofits

SUPPORTING NONPROFITS: Pay-Less Markets recently completed another successful Kick the Fat 5K/10K Virtual Race. Similar to last year's race, the virtual format allowed 879 runners to run or walk from any location. "For a quarter of a century, the annual Pay-Less KTF 5K/10K has provided financial assistance to various nonprofit organizations on Guam. Kinahulo' KTF22 raised $29,833.20 which will help "lift up" our island community most especially during these challenging times. Si Yu'os ma'ase to all KTF race participants, sponsors, organizers, and supporters," said Kathy Calvo, Pay-Less Supermarkets CEO and president. The race proceeds - a total of $29,833 - will support the Guam Memorial Hospital Volunteers Association, Harvest House Inc., Knights of Columbus - Our Lady of Mount Carmel, Mañelu, Oceanic Ascent Education Inc., Okkodo Parent-Teacher and Student Association, and Sanctuary Inc. of Guam. Calvo and others are seen Friday with the symbolic check for the nonprofits. Courtesy Pay-Less Markets

COMPLETED: Guam Department of Education high school students received level completion certificates from the GCA Trades Academy on April 9. In total, 56 participants completed the most recent session between the public school system and the organization. High school students can learn trade skills, earn credit in summer program

With a summer break from classes coming up, public high school students are being given a chance to learn job skills and earn credit that will get them closer to graduation.

The Guam Department of Education and the GCA Trades Academy have a partnership that allows high school students to earn graduation credit and nationally recognized credentials by taking trades academy classes, the GCA Trades Academy announced in a press release.

Registration is now open for the summer program, the trades academy stated in the press release. Classes will be held daily at the GCA Trades Academy Tiyan Training Facility from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. June 13 through Aug. 8.

The curriculum will cover basic safety, construction math, hand tools and power tools, construction drawings and materials handling.

Students will be introduced to a variety of trades, including carpentry, masonry, ironworking, electrical, welding, heavy equipment and cranes. Upon completion of this two-level course, students will have the basic knowledge needed on any job site.

Registration closes May 31. Students are encouraged to contact their school counselors or call 671-488-5244 or email liza@gcatradesacademy.org.

On April 9, the GCA Trades Academy presented 56 level completion certificates to GDOE high school students. The cohort receiving the certificates completed courses in the Core Curriculum and Construction Craft Laborer levels one and two.
