WHAT IS OUR PURPOSE?

SBBH clinicians help students to create positive relationships with their peers, family, school and community members. They also facilitate the ability of students to build confidence and foster resilience – the ability to bounce back from challenges with a stronger sense of self-confidence and coping capacity – in order for students to grow into healthy and successful contributing members of our island community.

CHILDREN HAS A DIAGNOSABLE
MENTAL HEALTH DISORDER

School-Based Behavioral Health (SBBH) supports service coordination and uses a flexible model of service delivery tailored to the needs of schools and their students. Our model is strength-based, school-focused, and culturally responsive. From the time a school site refers a student, staff work to engage and partner with students, parents/caregivers, schools as well as the school site personnel. Staff respect and incorporate the observations and recommendations of school districts and site staff in planning and delivering services.
